Continuation of 3. NOTE: Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 23-29 are not persuasive. Examiner asserts that Watanabe et al. in view of Chen et al. discloses a cut-off switch in which the first and second contacts are fixed, and the distance between the second movable contact and the second fixed contact is greater than the distance between the first movable contact an the first fixed contact when the first and second movable contacts are away from the first and second contacts, as cited in claim 23. Configuring the current cutoff switch of Watanabe et al. to have an asymmetrical movable plate, such as that of Chen et al., would provide this limitation.
